Social Distancing and Coronavirus (COVID-19)

As circumstances from COVID-19 continue to evolve, CHFAs priority is ensuring the health and safety of our staff, customers, and partners while continuing to fulfill our mission of investing in affordable housing and economic development.

In light of Governor Polis declaring a state of emergency for Colorado earlier this week, and in the spirit of taking a proactive approach to help contain the virus from spreading, CHFA is encouraging a culture of social distancing.

Until further notice, CHFA has asked our employees to work remotely as much as possible and to restrict all non-essential travel. Our organization has invested in technology that allows us to maintain business continuity despite these changes. While you may see us rescheduling meetings and trainings to occur as conference calls or webinars, our team remains committed to ensuring that we are accessible and responsive to your needs.

CHFAs Blake Street office in Denver will continue to be open during normal business hours to receive packages and mail delivery. However, for the health and safety of everyone in our community, we encourage contacting CHFA via phone or email at 800.877.2432 or askchfa@chfainfo.com if you need assistance. For those team members who are onsite, you will notice them engaging in more elbow bumps, hand washing, and office sanitation practices as is recommended by public health officials.

While we adapt as appropriate to the changing environment, CHFA remains steadfast in our commitment to our work. We will continue to share further updates or notifications as appropriate.
